

“THE REGIMENTAL”

THE NEWSLETTER OF THE NATIONAL REGIMENT

Fall, 2014

Commander's Corner

I hope everyone has enjoyed their summer, it's been a strange one for sure weather-wise, but now it's time to start thinking towards our next event which is the 150th of Cedar Creek.

(See below)

This will be the last of the 150th mega-events, and based on the way our hobby has been going in the last few years there is some thought that it may be the last mega-event for a while.

Registration is still open for $25 at http://ccbf.us/?page_id=565 Don't miss it.

Remembrance Day will follow in November, it's the NR's annual meeting, so start thinking about events you might want to attend in 2015 and contact your unit rep. so he can present your choices at the meeting.

There are a couple of events already in the pipeline for next year.

We're in pre-production talks with the principle parties for the 150th Appomattox April 9-12, 2015. More information will follow when it becomes available.

Also, there is early planning for a Grand Review in DC next year. The parade is scheduled with the City and NPS for Sunday, May 17th. The parade will march the length of Pennsylvania Ave to 14th Street, past recreated Reviewing Stands at Freedom Plaza where impressionists and other VIPs will observe the event and then make a left and move onto the National Mall where, in cooperation with the NPS, there will be a series of living history exhibits and garrison camps.

As always, more information will follow when it becomes available

Everybody have a safe trip, and we'll see you there.

150th Cedar Creek Oct. 18, 19, 2014 Middletown, VA

As this historically was a semi-permanent camp we will permit more canvas than is our usual practice. Tentage will be as follows:

Enlisted, dog tents, one fly per street if desired.

Company officers, A tents, maximum 2 per street

Field and Staff, wall tents

You may also bring camp furniture and other impedimenta should you choose to do so.

Battle Scenarios

Listed below are the unit designations the NR will be portraying for the battle scenarios, along with the proper Corps Badge.
